Our Green and Growing Square

The Bloomington Parks Foundation, on Arbor Day 2016, launched the Downtown Square Tree Campaign in partnership with the City of Bloomington Parks and Recreation Department. The campaign is intended to address the need to remove dying trees in the public right of way surrounding the courthouse square, and replace them with vigorous, healthy new trees.

Trees benefit our downtown in many ways. Not only do they provide shade and aesthetic beauty, they are a living, breathing testament to the value Bloomington places on the environment, downtown businesses, and the historic nature of the downtown square.

By supporting the Downtown Square Tree Campaign with the sponsorship of a downtown tree, you demonstrate your commitment to a green and growing downtown Bloomington!

A limited number of trees are available for sponsorship. See the map on the reverse side for locations of trees in need of sponsorships. Tree sponsorships are available on a first-come, first-served basis.
